

European Society for Radiation Biology

ESRB

Cooperation Contract

between the

European Society for Radiation Biology (ESRB)

and the Polish Society for Radiation Research.

With signature of this contract by a representative of the European Society for Radiation Biology, on behalf of the Council, the Society agrees to offer all members of the Polish Society for Radiation Research membership for a reduced fee. This fee currently is EUR 15.-, but will be adjusted according to changes in the regular membership fee of ESRB.

With signature of this contract by a representative of the Polish Society for Radiation Research, on behalf of the Council, the Society agrees to provide ESRB with a complete and annually updated list of the members of the Society. This list will solely be used for distribution of information relevant to ESRB to the members of the Society. No third party will receive any data of members of the Society.

Both Societies will include links to the webpage of the other society in their internet sites.
